Hello Friends!

As we begin the 27th season of Wisconsin Lutheran College Fine Arts programs, I am humbled and grateful for the generous support of our friends, patrons, and donors who have attended our programs for many years. You have served as integral partners in keeping the arts thriving at Wisconsin Lutheran College!

Our goal in arts programming at the Center for Arts and Performance is to offer a diverse range of arts experiences for the purposes of engaging our campus community, as well as our surrounding community of neighbors. An important part of our mission is to support and sustain Wisconsin Lutheran College's commitment to quality, excellence, and preparing students for lives of Christian leadership. We continue to pursue this goal by offering master class opportunities for our students in conjunction with our Guest Artist Series. This season, we welcome pianist Sarah Hagen, who will conduct a master class for piano and instrumental students.

WLC students strive to cultivate their talents through our academic programs. The efforts of our students are on display throughout the year as they study their craft and develop their skills in art, music, and theatre. Each year, music students and faculty offer choral and instrumental performances and recitals, mainstage theatre performances can be seen in the Raabe Theatre, and art exhibits are presented in the Schlueter Art Gallery. Much of the work you will experience here at the Center for Arts and Performance results from the dedication of our faculty and students to artistic expression and creative initiative.

I eagerly invite you to spend some time with us here at the Center for Arts and Performance. It is my sincere desire that your time spent engaging in the live arts will renew your mind, ignite your heart, and energize your spirit.

Sincerely,

Loni Boyd (WLC '04)

General Manager of Fine Arts Programming and Operations

The Fourth Wall

Sunday, February 4 • 2:30 p.m.

Few musical ensembles earn top marks for their "deft choreography" (The Wall Street Journal), but this is no ordinary ensemble. Part chamber music group, part theatre company, part modern dance troupe, and part circus act, The Fourth Wall blends music, theatre, dance, and acrobatics into a new hybrid art form. This trio of musicians creates new interdisciplinary works and reinterprets classic repertoire to make music that leaps off the stage. The Fourth Wall puts a vaudevillian twist on classical chamber music with their one-of-a-kind variety show called Fruit Flies Like a Banana. Chopin on hoverboards, Satie performed while hanging upside down, Joplin on plastic boomwhacker tubes, and tangos where the musicians are also the dancers! The audience picks the order of more than 20 pieces specially chosen for each show in this fast-paced hybrid arts experience.

Sunday, February 25 • 2:30 p.m.

In Wonder Women, pianist and humorist Sarah Hagen delves into the remarkable stories and piano music of forgotten female composers from the classical repertoire. Her extensive touring has taken her across Canada, to Sweden, Denmark, France, Germany, and Italy, and twice to New York City's Carnegie Hall. Honored as Ontario Contact's 2017 Artist of the Year and the British Columbia Touring Council's 2015 Artist of the Year, and mentioned by The Guardian as the Best Classical Performance of 2014, her interpretations have been described as "outstandingly inventive" (University of Waterloo Gazette), "played flawlessly," (review Vancouver) and "with great sensitivity and heart" (Vernon Morning Star). PETER AND THE ST★RCATCHER

Written by Rick Elice | Music by Wayne Barker

The Tony-winning Peter and the Starcatcher upends the century-old story of how a miserable orphan comes to be The Boy Who Would Not Grow Up (a.k.a. Peter Pan). From marauding pirates and jungle tyrants to unwilling comrades and unlikely heroes, Peter and the Starcatcher playfully explores the depths of greed and despair... and the bonds of friendship, duty, and love. WLC Theatre alumnus Tim Rebers '06 returns to be part of this production's creative team.

Many of those alumni will return to WLC - some together again, some working together for the first time - for this yet-to-be-determined winter production. Current WLC Theatre students will also partake in this production. Speaking of returning to WLC, newly retired WLC Theatre professor Jay Sierszyn will return to be the production supervisor.

A ROCK SAILS BY

Dr. Cummings hopes to witness nothing remarkable and thus save her reputation, but there is no telling what she will discover beyond the stars. Current plans are for this production to be directed by a professional guest artist.
